BEGIN WORK TOMORROW

The Assessors Start on Their Rounds on the First of March.

Some Features of the Work
That Will be Interesting to Taxpayers.

On the first day of March the assessor begins the annual task of listing personal property and all improvements on real estate made within the last year. As there are a great many people who do not thoroughly understand the assessment laws, we give a few facts explanatory of some of the most important features.

The law designates the first day of March as the basis of all assessments, and all personal property, including money, notes and bonds (except government, state, county and municipal bonds) which you possess on that day must be listed for taxation.

All improvement bonds issued under the Barrett law, such as street, sewer, etc., are taxable and must be listed.

Dogs three months old on the first day of March must be given in for assessment at the time. If you do not own the dog, but allow it to stay with you, you are liable for harboring said dog.

Now, as stated before, the assessor begins his work on the first day of March and is allowed twenty-five days, or till the 15th of May, in which to complete the work, but throughout all that time he is trying to find out what you had on the first day of March; therefore you can save time to yourself and greatly facilitate his work by making a complete list of all your property on the above date, or as near thereto as possible. If you will do this the assessor will detain you but a few minutes when he calls.

If you hold notes, taxable bonds, building and loan stock, or accounts, you can deduct any debts you may owe from the sum thereof by making an itemized list of your indebtedness.

You cannot take credit against cash on hand or on deposit of any debt that you may owe.

Be very careful to list all money, notes, bonds, building and loan stock accounts and all other property that you may have on the first day of March, for you cannot omit anything knowingly without committing the crime of perjury, as is shown by the following interrogatory which you are sworn to on your assessment sheet. Read it very carefully.

"Have you, before the first day of March of the present year, either personally or through the agency of others, caused all or any part of your taxable money or other property to be temporarily converted, either by sale, borrowing, exchange, or in any other manner, into bonds or other securities of the United States, not taxable, or any other property not taxable, with the intention to pay, return or exchange or sell back property after you have made out your tax statement, for the purpose of evading the payment of taxes on such property; or did you, on or after the first day of March of the present year, and before you saw this interrogatory, pay back, return, or exchange or sell back such property for the purpose aforesaid?"

If you will answer the above interrogatory truthfully you need have no fear of the county assessor or tax assessors. Mortgage exemptions must be filed with the county auditor in March and April.

The assessors and their residences and respective townships are Reuben Henry, Carthage, Ripley township; Jacob Adams, Arlington, Posey township; Clyde Whisman, Manilla, Walker township; William Hennessey, Milroy, Orange township; Harmony Eoles, Anderson township; Andrew Armstrong, Rushville township, R. R. 3, deputies, John Flehart and Charles Norris; Vorhees Caviat, Jackson township; John H. Jackson, Fairmount, R. R. 26, Washington township; William Bell, Union township; John W. Haines, New Salem, Noble township; deputy, John C. Hume; and James Tarplee, Richland township.

SENATE ACQUITS.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The senate concluded the impeachment trial of Judge Swayne by acquitting him on all the charges made against him in the articles of impeachment presented by the house, and then passed the naval appropriation bill, which carries a total appropriation of $100,300,000.

The voting on the Swayne case continued without discussion, all the time being consumed in taking the twelve votes necessary to dispose of each of the articles. The highest vote for impeachment was 35 votes and the lowest against it 47. On the two articles charging the use of private railroad cars only 13 votes were cast for conviction. The larger votes were largely along party lines.

WHY IT IS.

An Explanation is Offered For the High Price of Eggs.

Produce dealers, figuratively speaking, "cross fingers and touch wood" when the egg question is mentioned, says the Indianapolis News. One year ago now they were paying 25 cents a dozen on Monday, and the following Saturday they were getting all they could handle at 15 cents a dozen. The thing that keeps the price steady now is the condition of the country roads. Meanwhile, the eggs are accumulating in the country, and a sharp break is expected almost any day; the longer it is postponed, the sharper it will be.

STRUCK IN THE EYE BY SNOWBALL

Miss Lola Peters May Lose the Sight in One of Her Eyes.

Miss Lola Peters, who resides with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. L. Beer, while returning from school yesterday evening on Perkins street was struck in the eye by a snowball thrown by a lad and aimed at another. The blow bursted a blood vessel in the eye ball and a bad hemorrhage resulted. The physician attending the girl states that there is a probability that she will lose the sight of that eye. Miss Peters is suffering from headache today.

COLLISION AT SHIRLEY

Freight Wreck on Big Four
Yesterday and Two Cars
Were Demolished.

The freight wreck which occurred on the Big Four early yesterday morning, and of which mention was made yesterday, was somewhat of a serious nature. A south-bound freight crashed into No. 60 an east-bound freight on the P. & E. division of the road.

The two trains came together at the station where the two tracks cross. Two cars loaded with wheat and corn on train No. 60, were demolished by the crash of the other train and the tracks for quite a distance were obstructed, but luckily no one was hurt. Train No. 60, on the Peoria & Eastern division, had the right of way and the wreck was said to have been the fault of the trainmen on No. 77, of this division.

No. 41 south-bound passenger train, due here at 8:30 a. m. was delayed about four hours, reaching here about 12 o'clock.

The debris was scattered about and the wreck train from Indianapolis worked nearly all day to clear it up.

UNREQUITED LOVE

Leads to a Shocking Tragedy in the Most Fashionable Part of a Chicago Boulevard.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Miss Catherine Mulvey, an heiress, was murdered yesterday by Daniel Herman, a policeman, whose love she had refused. The murder was committed in the most fashionable part of Michigan boulevard at a time when the avenue was filled with pedestrians and carriages. Herman, after killing the young woman, made his escape, and last night committed suicide in a lodging house at 3165 Archer avenue by shooting himself through the brain with the same revolver with which he had killed Miss Mulvey.

Herman became infatuated with the girl through hearing her play at St. James Catholic church where she acted as organist, and had for a long time annoyed her with his attentions, constantly urging her to marry him.

Miss Mulvey had refused him repeatedly and told some of her friends a short time ago he had threatened to kill her unless she married him. At that time she expressed herself as being afraid to walk the street for fear that she might meet Herman who followed her everywhere she went.

Herman had been a member of the Chicago police force for several years, acting as a "plain clothes" man. For about one year he had been on furlough and had done no active work for the department.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 28.—Michael Kelley, millionaire and coal operator, is dead. Kelley was a native of Ireland and came to America in 1851 as a common laborer. His wealth is estimated at over $4,000,000. His first work here was in a brickyard where he discovered coal. He leased the land and gradually extended his operations, until he owned seven thousand acres of coal land. He recently sold his holdings to the Deer company of Chicago.

River Gave Up Its Victim.
Mishawaka, Ind., Feb. 28.—The body of Henry Miller, who mysteriously disappeared several days ago, was found in the river.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Feb. 28.—John Jarrett, colored, was shot and killed by William Taylor, colored, during a quarrel over a game of cards.

IT IS EQUAL TO THE BEST

That is What the Western Electrician Says of I. & C.
Road-bed.

For Fifty Miles There is No
Grade Over One and One Half Per Cent.

In its account of the roadway along the L & C., the Western Electrician says:

"The roadway is said to be equal to that of any line in the country. The track is graded in accordance with the best practice for steam roads, cuts and fills having been made wherever necessary to avoid excessive or frequent grades. For a distance of nearly 50 miles from Indianapolis, there is no grade in the line to exceed 1½ per cent., and, while from that point on toward Cincinnati, the country is less level and in some cases straight lines have been preferred, even at the expense of slightly increased grade, it is confidently expected that, with the true alignment secured and the low grades encountered, greater speed can be maintained with comfort and safety to passengers than on any steam road now operating in that vicinity. So far as has been yet determined, the heaviest grade will be four per cent.

The road-bed is graded 28 feet wide on top for a double track, with slopes on fills and in cuts of 1½ to one, and upon a grade line that puts the track in most instances above the level of adjacent lands, so as to avoid trouble on account of snow. In the construction of the roadway, bridges, etc., provision has been made in every case for double track, though but one track has been laid at the present time. The bridges across all streams are constructed in the most approved manner, either with concrete steel arches or with steel girders and stone abutments as is the bridge over Blue river, near Morristown. The upper structures have been built of the very best steel construction by the Indianapolis Bridge company, of Muncie Ind., and are made of sufficient length to carry trains of cars having a gross weight of 100 tons per car. Though all abutments have been built for double track, the superstructures at the present time are arranged for one track only. It will be noted that provision has been made for the heaviest demand in respect to size of cars and length of trains likely to be experienced in the near future."

NEGRO JACKSON'S FATE IN THE HANDS OF THE JURY.

The case of James Jackson, the negro arrested Christmas eve by Policeman Gordon, and who was indicted by the grand jury for burglary and larceny, came up for trial before a jury in the circuit court at 10 o'clock this morning.

Several witnesses were placed on the stand but beyond the identification of the watch by Oliver Smith, nothing much was established against the negro.

Among the witnesses examined were Tom Meredith, Policeman Gordon, Oliver Smith and Sheriff Bainbridge.

The evidence and arguments were heard and the jury took the case at 2 o'clock. At the hour of going to press (4 o'clock) no verdict had been returned.

Mrs. Jackson, the negro's wife came here from Cincinnati and sat by her husband during the trial. The negro maintained a rather indifferent manner all through the proceedings.

Council retired to the ante-room, and after a secret conference lasting about twenty minutes, returned to the council chamber. Mr. Dale moved, seconded by Mr. Brann, that the question of awarding the contract be left over until the next regular meeting on March 7th. The motion was carried.

Councilman Brann then stated that the test well being drilled at the water and light plant was about done and that it was a good one. He suggested that council should have more wells drilled now while the thing was being done.

Mr. Caldwell favored having two other wells drilled, but that they should be drilled farther away from the plant, probably a distance of some 600 feet to the north or southwest. Figures on the probable cost of one of the new wells placed it at $1000 including a six inch main to the plant.

A heated discussion then arose over the best way of letting the contract.

Councilman Brann stated that Messrs. W. A. Mull and Will M. Frazee had told him that they could have drilled the new well cheaper than the figures for which C. B. Lore took it, had they had a chance to bid on it. Mr. Brann seemed to take the statement as an insinuation that the committee had favored Mr. Lore in awarding the contract and rising to his feet he said that the reason that the contract had been awarded to Mr. Lore was that the

LAMB OR LION?

According to Rev. Hicks We Are to Have Rag Time Weather in March.

If we are to believe Prophet Hicks, we are to have a variety of weather during the month of March and most of it is to consist of the undesirable sort. If the month opens with a lamb-like tread its gentleness will not be of long duration for we are to have a storm period from the 3d to the 15th. During the month we are to have rain, snow, hail, sleet, cold waves, storms and be in danger of destructive floods at any time and more especially toward the close of the month. In fact the weather prophet has dished us up a month of almost continuous bad weather.

ARRESTED FOR DRUNKENNESS

Willard Bennett and George
Hayes are Landed in the "Bastill"

Willard Bennett was arrested by Officers Gordon and Craig last night about seven o'clock at his home on the Posey lane on the complaint of his wife who charged that he had driven her out of the house with a butcher knife.

About eight o'clock George Hayes was taken into custody at his home on West Third street. Hayes, according to his wife, was chasing her about the house with a butcher knife. Both men are in jail on the charge of drunkenness.

NOTHING DONE BY COUNCIL

The "City Dads" Did Not Let the Fuel Contract Last Night.

Question of Drilling More Wells
Led to Some Heated Discussions.

The city council convened in special session last night with all members present and Mayor Hall presiding, to consider the letting of the fuel contract for the water and light plant for the year beginning April 15th, 1905, and ending April 15th, 1906.

The minutes of the last meeting were dispensed with but the clerk read all of the eight propositions submitted by the different companies which submitted bids.

The Indiana Fuel and Supply company, of Indianapolis, agreed to furnish the 1500 or 2000 tons estimated consumption for the plant in one year as follows: Pittsburg, Nut, Pea and Slack, $2.45 per ton; Pittsburg Course Slack, $2.25 per ton; Pittsburg Mine Run, $2.55 per ton.

Will Redman, of this city agreed to Pittsburg Nut, and Slack or Mine Run at $2.75 per ton. The Kanawha Coal & Coke Co., of Cincinnati, bid $2.35 per ton for Kanawha Mine Run Gas coal and the Marmet Hall Coal & Coke company, also of Cincinnati, bid $2.65 per ton on Raymond City Washed Nut and Slack coal. The bid of the Consumers Fuel Co., of Indianapolis, bid $2.15 on Kanawha Split Nnt and Slack, and C. H. Alger, of this city, bid $2.45 on Nut and Slack coal from the Blayer Mine. The New River Coal company, bid as follows: Best grade West Virginia 1½ in Nut Pea and Slack, 42½ c.; best grade West Virginia Mine Run, 75 per cent course, 95½ c. per ton, F. O. B. Mines. Rate on either $1.55. With the exception of this all the bids were F. O. B. Rushville.

In renewing the proposition of the Central Fuel company of this city, Will M. Frazee, secretary, stated that his company would be willing to furnish gas for the plant at a price of 5 per cent. lower than the cost of the coal which would be required to run the plant during the year mentioned, and in case of the failure of gas, which was wholly unlikely, it would furnish coal for the plant. He further stated that the traction company, of which he is a director, now had a car of Pittsburg Nut and Slack coal which it would let the city have at the cost price of $2.00 per ton in order to make the test. Mr. Frazee advised, however, if the council preferred to buy coal, that they buy Pittsburg coal as Indiana coal burned quicker.

Council retired to the ante-room, and after a secret conference lasting about twenty minutes, returned to the council chamber. Mr. Dale moved, seconded by Mr. Brann, that the question of awarding the contract be left over until the next regular meeting on March 7th. The motion was carried.

The oil situation in Kansas will be made the basis of an inquiry into the methods of the Standard Oil company, although the investigation will not be confined to Kansas. This investigation had been planned some time ago, and the Kansas situation has served chiefly to add the resolution in the lower house of Congress to the order from the president to the department of labor and commerce. This investigation is to be thoroughgoing, and it is likely to reveal many things that are not known to the public. Many stories have been published, and most of them seem to have some foundation, but they cannot all be regarded as trustworthy. Commissioner Garfield has already shown not only a disposition to go after facts, but also the ability to acquire the facts that go to the core of such questions. This was demonstrated by his inquiry into the methods of the beef trust.

What is called the divorce evil has its source in human nature so deep seated that it is going to be mighty hard to reach it. In fact, close students contend that the marriage institution as now existing, is in some measure not in harmony with human nature. However, this may be the so-called "divorce evil" flourishes, and four-fifths of the divorces obtained in the United States are granted for causes other than the Scriptural one. And of these causes not a few are more suitable for farce-comedy than for the grave attentions of the courts. For instance, a Brooklyn woman applied for severance of irksome ties because her husband sits at home evenings and will not put on festive raiment and sally forth to places of amusement. Many women would sympathize with this plea. An Iowa woman has filed a petition because her husband is dyspeptic and cannot eat the dishes she prepares. A Philadelphia woman, once married and divorced, recently remarried her former spouse after seventeen years of life apart, and now again accuses him of "cruel and barbarous treatment." A Cleveland woman wishes a quick divorce because during court proceedings her social activities are interrupted. A Chicago wife has sued on the ground of an "abandonment" which consisted in her husband's absence on a ten days' yachting trip last summer.

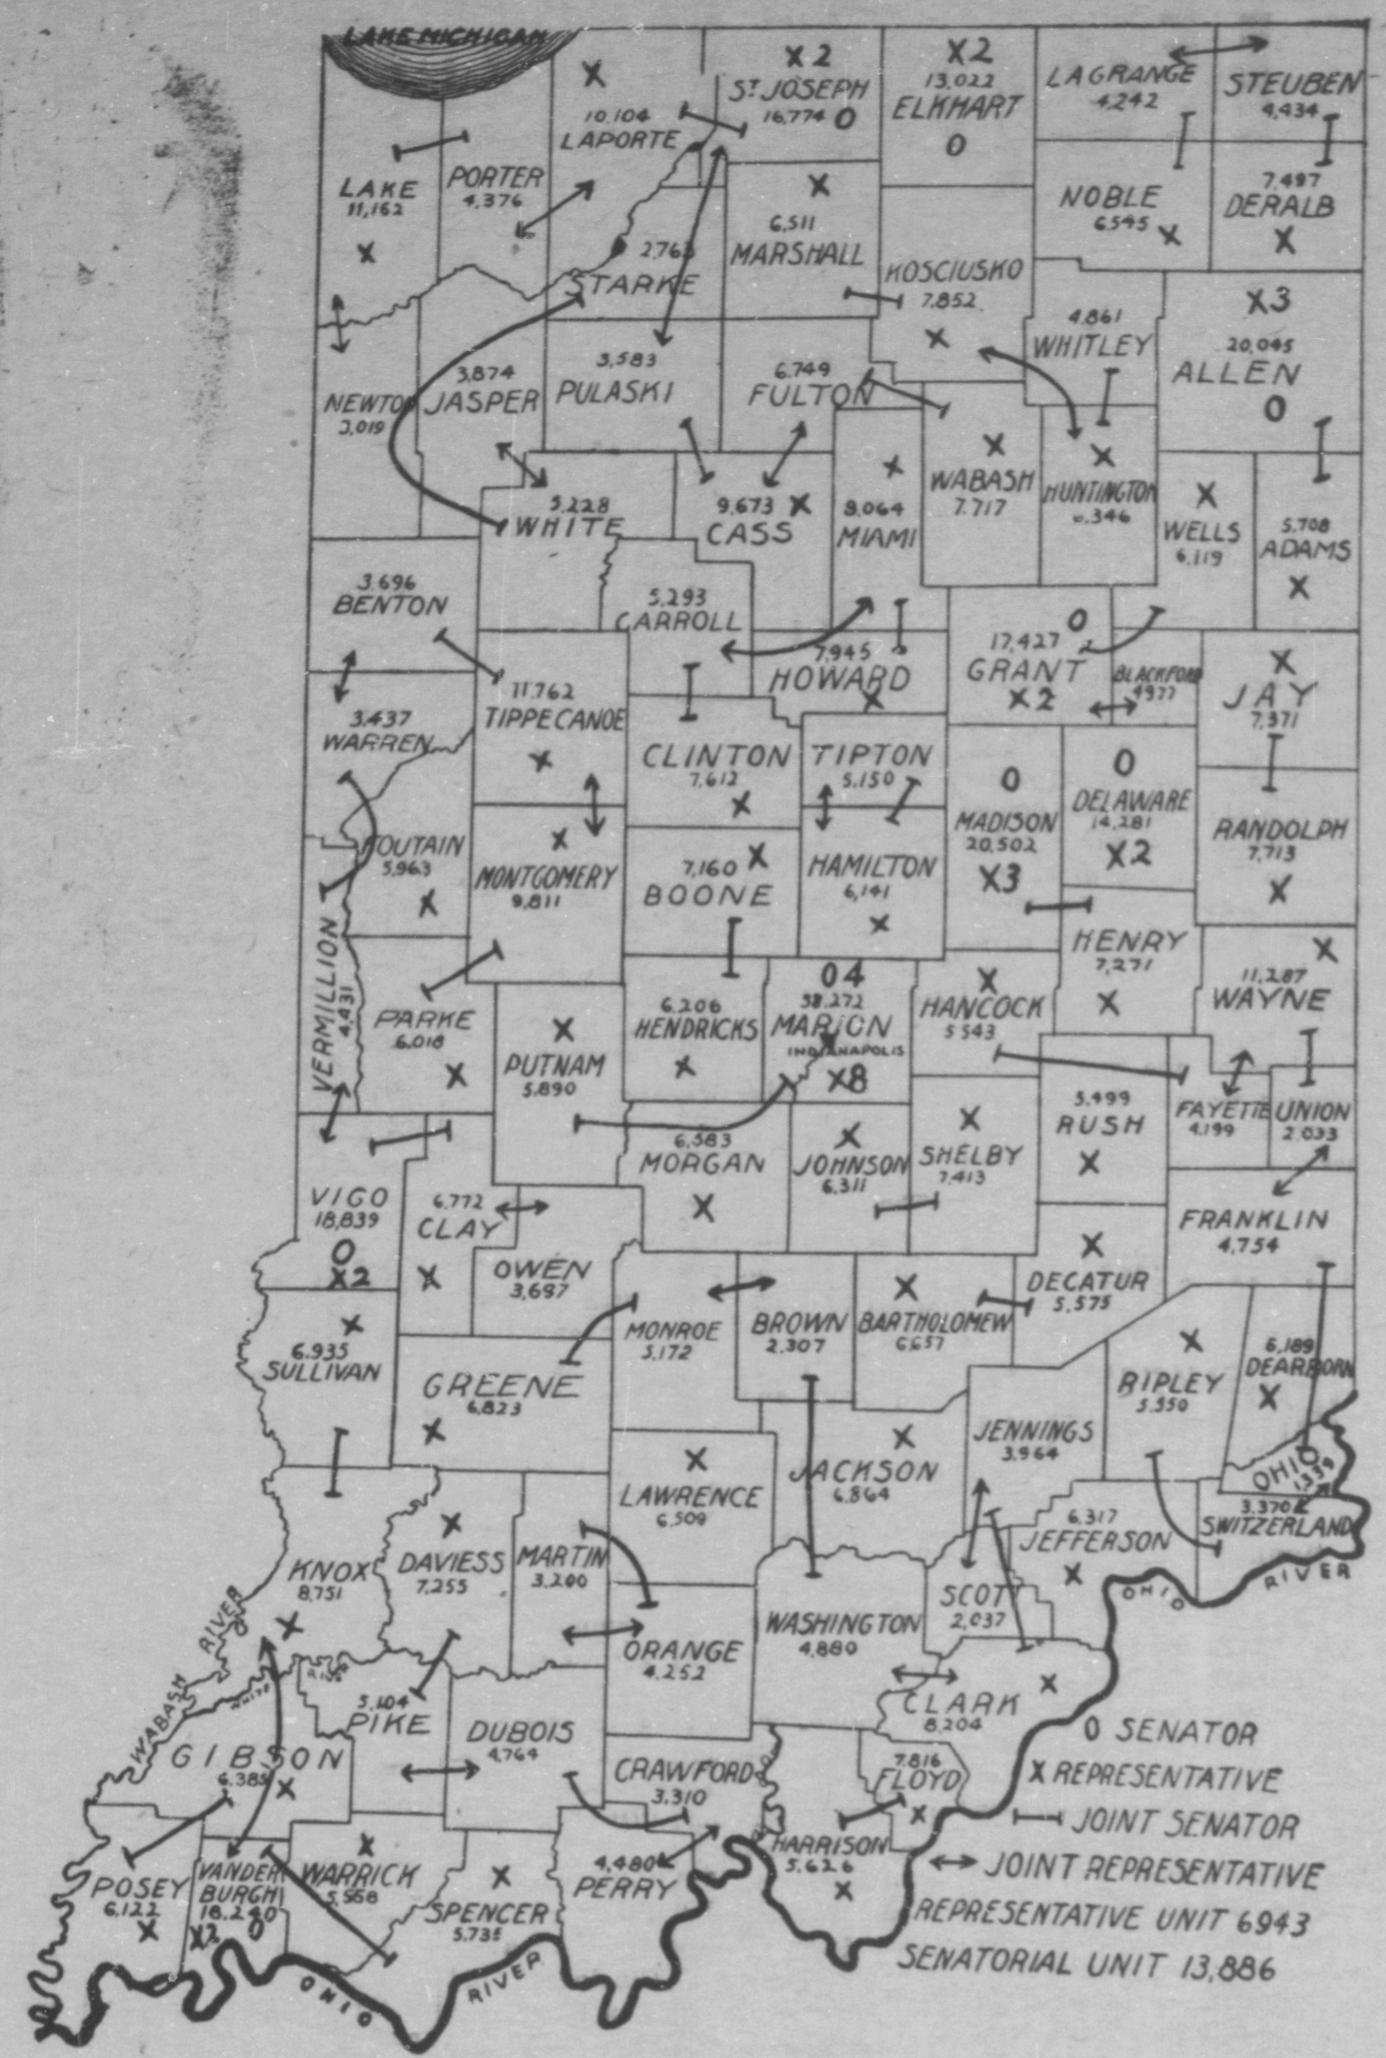

NO RIVALRY

State Chairmanship Is Wholly Within Mr. Goodrich's Hands.

Indianapolis, Feb. 28.—George A. H. Shideler of Marion, a well-known Republican leader, who is a prospective candidate for governor, is authority for the statement that Elam Neal of Jonesboro, Eleventh district chairman, will not be a candidate for state chairman if Chairman Goodrich cares to remain at the head of the organization. This may be regarded as indicative of what Neal's attitude will be when the committee is reorganized, as he is one of Shideler's lieutenants. Neal has come to be regarded as suitable timber for the state chairmanship. His organization in the Eleventh district last year was one of the best in the state. He organized a Ten O'clock Voters' club in every precinct, which attracted the attention of the national committee, and on Thursday his will take to Washington a precinct committeeman from each county in his bailiwick who got out every voter on his poll books. Possessing such marked ability as an organizer, his friends say they have no hesitancy in putting him forward for Chairman Goodrich's place; that is, of course, if Goodrich does not want to continue at the head of the party machinery.

Speaker Cantwell is said to be firmly opposed to the codification commission's municipal code bill. The Municipal League of Indiana has a committee here urging prompt action on the bill. Its chief interest is to extend the terms of the present city officials until 1908. Mayor Holtzman of Indianapolis, who would like to have his term extended, has skillful representatives at the statehouse who are working hard to obtain the passage of the bill, as it was advanced to third reading in the senate, but they have no positive assurance that it will go through. If it is passed it is said that Governor Hanly will sign it, although he is not reported to have any particular interest in it. Speaker Cantwell, it is said, is against the Sponsor for Confederate Reunion.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 28.—General Stephen B. Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, has announced the appointment of Miss Carrie Peyton Wheeler, daughter of General Joe Wheeler, to sponsor for the South Atlantic Confederate reunion to be held in Louisville, June 14, 15 and 16. Miss Wheeler has selected Miss Lena Swift, of Atlanta, and Miss Clara Hall, of Louisville, to be her ladies of honor.

Looking Out for Future Chadwicks.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Representative Webber (O.) has introduced a bill to secure depositors in national banks, it provides for a tax on such deposits amounting to one-tenth of 1 per cent, to be used to indemnify depositors of failed national banks. This bill is to cover cases such as the Chadwick case in Ohio.

Soldiers Demand Pay.

Suez, Feb. 28.—Twenty thousand Turkish troops of the Damascus army corps who had been ordered to Yemen to suppress the rebellion in that province refused to leave Akha because arrears of their wages had not been paid.

Drowned Herself in Well.

Carlisle, Ind., Feb. 28.—Mrs. Catherine White, sixty-nine years old, was trying over fear that she would be sent to an insane hospital, committed suicide by drowning in a well at the home of William Banster, near this place.

Proposition of extending the terms of officers by legislation. Public interest in this bill is widespread, as it affects every city in the state. If it becomes a law as it now stands there will be no municipal elections before 1907. Unless it reaches the house by tomorrow afternoon the chances of its success will be very slim.

Governor Hanly has vetoed three more bills providing for the reimbursement of county officials who lost county funds through the failure of private and state banks in northern Indiana last fall. A dozen of these bills were introduced and favorably considered both by the house and the senate, although the question was raised in the latter as to their constitutionality. Governor Hanly believes they are against public policy. Attorney General Miller, who helps him go over the bills, is of the opinion that none of them is constitutional, although the supreme court has held in some cases that they are. Mr. Miller believes it is not within the power of the legislature to enact laws that will indirectly, at least, compel people to pay taxes to reimburse their officials for losses sustained by failure of some institution.

The house adopted the majority report of the ways and means committee recommending the passage of the epileptic village bill. It will probably be placed on final passage Thursday.

THE DAY HAS GONE BY

When an Indiana Legislature Can Be Purchased by Corrupt Influences.

AN INTERESTING CASE IN POINT

Cigarette Lobby's Bold Use of Money Operated in Inverse Ratio to the Expectations of the Fatuous Corporation Employing Such Reprehensible Means—Influence of Money on Legislation and a Lesson Thereon.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, Feb. 28.—When Representative Ananias Baker of Cass and Fulton counties arose in his seat to the speaker's desk five $20 bills given to him by a lobbyist for the purpose of securing his vote against the Parks cigarette bill, the success of that measure became so certain that the corporations which employed ex-Senator O. A. Baker to defeat it lost nothing by the absence of their chief lobbyist from the scene of action. The truth is that the Indiana state capitol is not a profitable field for the employment of the corrupt lobbyist, and the surprising thing is that the cigarette manufacturers have been so blind to the situation as to entrust their interests to a "fixer" of the Baker type. Those who are familiar with ex-Senator Baker's career say that he has been signally successful in manipulating legislation in other states, but it was evident for some time before Representative Baker performed his famous "coup" that anti-cigarette legislation had become a certainty, as much through the recognized presence of a professional lobby against it as for any other reason.

Happily the state debt is provided for by the payments made during the past few years. The restoration of the sinking fund levy in the fiscal years 1909 and 1910 will meet all of the debt payable by that time.

The next two or three years will witness unusual activity in new institutional construction. During that period the new insane hospital for the southeastern district will be erected, the girls' industrial school will be completed on the site already purchased in the northwestern part of Marion county, and the institution for the deaf and dumb will find a new home. The Purviance bill for the establishment of an epileptic village is meeting some opposition in the house, but the friends of the measure feel certain of its enactment.

The Boyd Divorce Bill.

By a vote of 52 to 35 the house passed a bill introduced by Representative Boyd of Putnam county, although it was attacked by opponents as a measure of bad policy. It resembles very closely the Smith marriage bill which was defeated in the senate. It provides that licenses are not to be issued to persons known to be imbecile, epileptic, of unsound mind or under the guardianship of a person as one of unsound mind; also license is not to be issued to any male person who has been an inmate of any county asylum or home for indigent persons unless it can be shown that the cause of such experience has been removed and the applicant can support a family. Marriages contracted outside of the state to evade the Indiana law, according to this measure, are to be declared void. Persons afflicted with an incurable disease, or under the influence of liquor when making application, are to be denied a license. Applications for license shall be uniform throughout the state and the blank forms shall be furnished by the state board of health.

No Sunday Baseball.

The friends of Sunday baseball had counted noses in the house and expected easy sailing for the Rulek bill, but on Friday it was defeated by a vote of 44 to 48. Every two years this measure bobs up for consideration and winds up on the legislative scrap-heap. During the general assembly of two years ago one of the most exciting contests of the legislature took place while this measure was up in the senate for consideration. This year the bill has aroused little public interest.

Indianapolis is in a ferment over the codification commission's bill on cities and towns, which extends the terms of city officers from two to four years. Indianapolis always gets a great deal of amusement and excitement out of its biennial mayoralty campaign, and many of those who take an interest in politics dislike the idea of having municipal elections four years apart. The friends of the present city administration in Indianapolis are convinced that it would be the right thing exactly to extend its tenure, while those opposed to it would like to have a chance to overthrow the present regime in 1906.

Considerable progress has been made with the bills of the codification commission. The criminal code bill passed the senate on Saturday afternoon, with amendments which send the measure back to the house for consideration.

The General Appropriation Bill.

The general appropriation bill has been completed by the committee on ways and means, and is now before the house. It represents the result of much patient investigation and discussion, first by the legislative investigating committee, and then by the ways and means committee. The total general appropriation will not differ much in size from that of two years ago, aggregating about $3,500,000. The bill carries very few salary increases, nearly every ordinary item of appropriation remaining as it was in the bill of 1903.

sition in each case of adverse action by citing legal precedents and authorities of the most convincing character.

Helping Poor Townships.

Governor Hanly has signed the Kean bill, providing for an increase of three-fifths of one cent in the tax levy for school purposes. The money thus brought into the state treasury is to be employed in giving relief to ninety Indiana townships now unable to provide schooling during a period of 120 days in each year. This additional levy will raise about $84,000 annually. This measure was proposed by State Superintendent Cotton, and had the hearty support of the Democratic members of both house and senate, partly because most of the townships favorably affected by the law are situated in the southern part of the state, which provides most of the new Democratic members of the general assembly.

This three-fifths of a cent will represent in all probability the sum total of the increase in the state tax levy. A bill presented by Representative Sayre, chairman of the ways and means committee, on Saturday, and which will doubtless have the approval of that committee, provides for the abolition of the 3-cent state debt sinking fund for a period of three years, and for its restoration during the succeeding two years. The addition of this 3-cent levy to the general fund will, it is thought, make ample provision for the unusual demands upon the state treasury created by the necessary establishment of new state institutions and the enlargement of those existing. These unusual demands will necessitate extraordinary expenditures aggregating fully a million dollars, or about the amount that will accrue from the addition to the general fund.

Happily the state debt is provided for by the payments made during the past few years. The restoration of the sinking fund levy in the

A Trip to the Capital City.

On last Friday morning Messrs. Lewis Bell, Freddie Martin, Minor Bell, Willie Meyers, Walter Vanderment, Elmo Hiers, Arthur Wilson, Clarence Duabenspeck, Elmer Trees, Charles Eskew, Charles Schonert, Chester Hall, Elbert Gordon, Otto Murphy, Harry L. Bussel and the Misses Opal Kiser, Lenna Smith, Fay Leonard, Laura Ging, Ruby McMillin, Frances Hiers, Nellie McMillin and Lela Kiser, members of Ging high school, under the leadership of Prof. Randall, left Rushville on the six o'clock interurban car for Indianapolis for the purpose of seeing the city.

They arrived at the terminal about twenty minutes till nine and decided to visit the State House museum first. After spending about an hour in this place they left it for the gallery in the House of Representatives, and stayed there about ten minutes, during which time L. O. Harrison and H. E. Griffin secured seats upon the floor of the house for them. They then stayed there until about fifteen minutes till eleven, listening to the reports of the different committees. As the forenoon was advancing very rapidly, Mr. Randall decided that they had better go to the Senate, so they immediately left for the Senate gallery, where they remained until twelve o'clock, when they disbanded after dinner.

After having eaten to their heart's content they again started out going to the monument and obtaining a fine view of the city. While here Walter Vanderment and Harry Bussel found out the man who keeps the record of all the visitors to the monument, Mr. David Leech, had lived near Ging about thirty years ago.

Next they went to the Marion county court house and "explored" it from top to bottom, going to the top of the tower, where the fire watchman stays, and getting another fine view of the city. They then descended and the guide took them through the tunnel to the jail.

The crowd then decided that the next thing on the program would be a visit to Kingan's packing factory, so taking a car, they were soon out there. After stopping at the office and securing a guide they went into that part of the factory where the hogs were driven into the pens by the side of a large wooden wheel. A number of chains were fastened to this wheel and as it turned around a man fastened another chain around a hind leg of a hog and hooked the chain to one of the chains on the wheel. The wheel revolving pulled the hog up until it reached the top of the wheel, when it started down an incendiary cable. A man stood near this and as each hog came by he stuck it and the hog never stopping, went on into the scalding water into the machinery which scraped off the hair and on in this manner until it was cleaned and cut into pieces, when it was sent into the refrigerating room to cool, laying in there about a night or day when it is again started on its journey to be cut up and packed, moving along steadily all of the time. In fact it stopped but once from the time the hogs were driven into the pens until it was packed, this stop being in the refrigerating room.

They next visited the beef department, where things were run upon much the same order.

After leaving here they went to the Indiana Medical Institute and looked through the building. Part of the boys stayed where the Fresh men were at work in the dissecting room, while the rest of the crowd visited the Claypool building, which they pronounced as being very fine. The boys who stayed at the Medical Institute also pronounced that as being fine, although the majority of the crowd couldn't see anything very interesting in seeing the students work with the stiffs.

As it was nearing six o'clock, the crowd got supper and left for home on the six o'clock car.

A STUDENT.

Up to the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The agricultural appropriation bill will fail unless the senate recedes from the Bacon amendment, requiring cotton statistics to be gathered twice a month instead of monthly as at present. This ultimatum has gone forth from the house conferees on the bill.

The latter was before the jury for over an hour relating in detail the story he had already told the house investigating committee. Summons have been issued to numerous representatives. It is understood that each member will be questioned in hopes of getting a clue that will lead to big developments.

It is said that Löbbyst Baker's friends at Marion, where his family resides, believe he has fled to Canada. A question is raised whether or not he could, under the present treaty, be extradited on a bribery charge.

AMUSEMENTS

"Old Si Stebbins," which is to be presented at the city opera house Wednesday night, is a play of typical New England life. It has plenty of fun and pathos, and the plot is full of interest as well as amusement. The play is almost as much of a vaudeville show as comedy, but it lends itself to this treatment without in the least hurting the story. Dan Darleigh, as "Old Stebbins" is a finished actor, and his characterization of that part is very realistic. Every person in the cast is engaged with the view of being able to do something good. There are really two shows, the specialties comprising a complete performance themselves. Seats on sale at Hargrove & Mullin's.

Better come soon.

LODGE NOTES

On Wednesday there will be a Statd Conclave of Rushville Commandery Knights Templar, followed by work in the Order of the Temple and appendent orders with one candidate.

Great preparations are being made for the district meeting of the degree of Pocahontas which will be held in Connersville on the 21st of Worm Moon (Tuesday, March 21). Rushville is in this district and it is expected that the members from here will be present in large numbers.

Too much care cannot be taken by a committee of investigation to examine into the character and fitness of an applicant for membership in our several orders. We have seen reports signed up on the night the petition was received; we have also seen parties rejected after they had been favorably reported upon by the committee and by the order. The province of an investigation committee is to investigate.

Otonkah Tribe of Red Men has found that one of the best ways of increasing their membership is for the Sachem to appoint two leaders who choose teams of ten members each and at once begin the work of securing applicants for admission. At the end of a stated period the team which has secured the least number of acceptable candidates pays for a supper for the entire membership of both teams. Upward of thirty new members have thus been secured for the tribe during the winter.

EIGHT-YEAR FINAL EXAMINATION.

The following townships in Rush county will hold their eighth year final examinations on the third Saturday in March: Washington, Orange, Posey, Ripley, Rushville, Jackson and Anderson. The remaining townships (Center, Noble, Walker, Richland and Union) will hold their examinations in April.

Respectfully,

W. O. HEADLEE, Co. Supt.
